Description:

Riding Hope was created by parents of children with special needs seeking to provide a progressive form of therapy for their children. They strive to provide a completely enjoyable environment for the children with no financial burdens applied to the parents. Children with Special Needs can benefit in a wide range of areas without even making a conscious effort due merely to the enjoyment of the horseback riding experience. Movement of the horse simulates the normal walking pattern of the rider, thus encouraging improvement in flexibility, muscle strength, and balance.
